CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF MILAN, Award «Gabriele Lanfredini» 2006 for the best study on the Lombard handicraft.

Reason: «The paper deals with the theme of craftsmanship and, more generally, of micro-enterprises in the development of the economic system, its criticalities and growth prospects. The research highlights the difficulties that the craft meets in the face of the shortening of the reaction times imposed by the market and the expansion of the geographical spaces of competition. The research makes a careful evaluation of the three dimensions that can contribute and facilitate the craft enterprise: i) setting up an incentive system for artisan entrepreneurship to work together to compete; ii) change the incentive system, which must support network interventions rather than individual projects; and iii) the existence of a strong industrial project and an authoritative leadership, that must be combined with the recognition of the need for aggregative forms between companies».

The eight main fields of interest on which I have spent years studying and researching activities are the following ones. They are strongly inter-linked and mutual reinforcing:

1. Trans-border co-operation and internationalisation courses;
2. Handicraft, analysis and sectoral policies;
3. Development models, territorial analysis, districts and milieux;
4. Regional policies, "governance structures" and policies evaluation;
5. Technical tools of analysis and quantitative methodologies;
6. Urban and service economics, commerce and tourism;
7. Human capital, vocational training and educational success;
8. ICTs, knowledge economy and creativity.

1. Trans-border co-operation and internationalization courses

From 1999 to 2018 I've worked on 13 different projects on behalf of: ISPI-REGIONE LOMBARDIA; CCIAA VARESE; ISTAT LOMBARDIA; MINISTERO AFFARI ESTERI; IREER-REGIONE LOMBARDIA; REGIONE EMILIA ROMAGNA; REGIONE FRIULI VENEZIA GIULIA; CESTEC; AND REGIONE TOSCANA.

The two most important research projects have certainly been those carried out on behalf of the Italian Foreign Office on «Analisi e criteri per la valutazione di politiche e progetti attinenti alle relazioni internazionali dei territori, della società civile e delle economie locali» [Analysis and methods for the evaluation of policies and projects regarding international relations of territories, of civil society and local economies]; and on behalf of Regione Toscana «Cooperazione internazionale e Euroregione Mediterraneo Occidentale» [International Co-operation and the Euroregion of Western Mediterranean].

Two books have been published on the subject [see N. 12 and N. 20].

2. Handicraft, analysis and sectoral policies

From 1996 to 2018 I've worked on 18 different projects on behalf of: REGIONE LOMBARDIA-UNIONCAMERE; ARTIGIANFIN PROGETTI; CNA FEDERAZIONE REGIONALE LOMBARDIA; UNIVERSITÀ LIUC e CCIAA VARESE; IREER-REGIONE LOMBARDIA; CESTEC-REGIONE LOMBARDIA; CSL MILANO-REGIONE LOMBARDIA.

Among the others particularly interesting have been: i) the evaluation of 10 years of policies for handicraft carried out by REGIONE LOMBARDIA and UNIONCAMERE LOMBARDIA within the frame of a general agreement ("Convenzione artigianato") subscribed by the two partners; ii) the study on the artistic handicraft in Lombardy region with innovative methodology for the definition of the sector.

Two books have been published on the subject [see N. 13 and 19].

3. Development models, territorial analysis, districts and milieux

From 1991 to 2018 I've worked on 16 different projects on behalf of: FORMEZ-PRO.SVI; FONDAZIONE AGNELLI; UNIONCAMERE LOMBARDIA (OPES); RICERCA DI BASE Università Bocconi; AMMINISTRAZIONE PROVINCIALE DI SONDRIO; ASSOCIAZIONE DEGLI INDUSTRIALI DI MONZA E BRIANZA; FONDAZIONE FIERAMILANO; AND CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY CREMONA; OECD-LEED TRENTO.

Among the others particularly interesting have been: the i) the Permanent Observatory on productive territorial systems in Lombardy region (OPES). Along a five-year period we produced 24 different WP on single territorial case studies; ii) the RICERCA DI BASE (Fundamental Research) Bocconi University, a self-financed project, which gave origin to two International Workshops and an important international book (edited by SENN and FRATESI); and iii) the research work carried out with Fondazione Fiera Milano on Italian districts with a Series of

4th July 2013, Trento OECD LEED Workshop

Monographs (6 are the titles already published).

Nine books have been published on the subject [see N. 2, 3, 4, 10, 15, 16, 17, 18, 23 and 24].

4. Regional policies, “governance structures” and policies evaluation

From 1992 to 2018 I've worked on 16 different projects on behalf of: CONSORZIO MILANO RICERCHE; MINISTERO DEL TESORO E MINISTERO DEI LAVORI PUBBLICI; CAMERA DI COMMERCIO DI MILANO; CESTEC–REGIONE LOMBARDIA; S.Anna Pisa–Alenia Composite; IReR–REGIONE LOMBARDIA; PROVINCIA AUTONOMA OF BOLZANO; REGIONE PIEMONTE; AND ÉUPOLIS–REGIONE LOMBARDIA; OECD-LEED TRENTO.

24. (1997), with R. RATTI and R. GORDON, Eds., The Dynamics of Innovative Regions: The GREMI Approach. Ashgate, London. {3–4}

The volume originates from the fourth cycle of GREMI research, focusing on territorial innovative processes and the competitive advantages of the complex socio-economic fabric of milieux innovateurs.

The book is divided into three parts. The first, written by the editors, deals with the multi-faceted dimensions of local development, placing particular emphasis on the role of territory in producing learning processes.

The second part reports different case studies and their theoretical systematisation carried out with the same methodology by some ten teams working in six different European countries.

The last part is devoted to a more general view on the structural adjustment dynamics of innovative milieux, raising useful questions of strategy and policy.

25. (2012), with S. TARANTOLA, Regional Innovation Index. Regional champions within national Innovation Systems. Publication Office of the European Union, Luxembourg. {4–5}

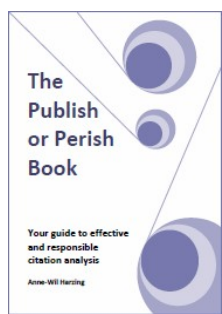

We look at the most innovative regions in Europe with the aim of detecting and describing the distinguishing features of their innovation profiles, and to reach a workable synthesis of such a multi-faceted phenomenon called innovation.

Composite indicators seem to be the natural candidates for this job as they ideally measure multi-dimensional concepts which cannot be captured by a single variable.

In the first part of the report, we carry out a robustness testing and the sensitivity analysis of the computed composite indicator. The report examines a large basket of possible meaningful alternatives and tests robustness as well as sensitivity both in a deterministic as well as in a probabilistic setting.

In the second part of the report, we look at composites from the point of view of the policymaking process.

Summary: Papers: 190 Citations: 1.601
h-index: 17 e-index: 30.08 g-index: 38

The h-index asserts that h of N papers have at least h citations each and the other (N-h) papers have no more than h citation each (It measure the cumulative impact of the researcher's output looking at the amount of citation his work has received).

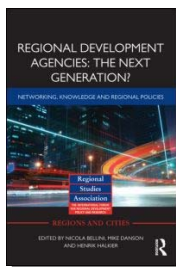

The e-index is the square root of the surplus of citations in the h-set beyond h^2 , i.e., beyond the theoretical minimum required to obtain a h-index of h (The aim of the e-index is to differentiate between scientists with similar h-indices but different citation patterns).

g-index: given a set of N papers ranked in decreasing order of the number of citations that they received, the g-index is the unique largest number such that the top g papers received together at least g^2 citations (It aims to improve on the h-index by giving more weight to highly-cited articles).
